Chapter News & Happenings

- Our April 11 meeting featured an excellent presentation by Linda Goldenhar of CPWR. She spoke about her organization, distributed and explained the jobsite safety climate rating tool she developed, and described and demonstrated a safety leadership module now available. More information and materials are available via www.cpwr.com. Thanks to Linda, and to the nine Chapter members who attended.
- Our Chapter is a sponsor of the upcoming Kentucky Governor's Safety and Health Conference and Exposition, to be held May 8-12 at the Northern Kentucky Convention Center in Covington. We will be staffing a booth there as well, and once we have details we will be asking again for volunteers to help. Stay tuned.
- After many years as The American Society of Safety Engineers, our organization is considering changing its name to The American Society of Safety Professionals (ASSP). The House of Delegates will vote on the name change in June. Please send comments to Chapter President Jonathan Zimmerman at Jonathan.Zimmerman@kellogg.com.
- Thanks to those of you who have expressed interest in joining the Chapter leadership team for 2017-2018. We still need a few more members to step forward – contact Jonathan at the email above with any questions.
- AIHA has invited our members to attend their May 18 “OSHA Update” meeting. The link to register is: <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/osha-updates-tickets-32444096165>. “What Working Safety Managers Should Know About Radiation”

This presentation will provide an overview of common radioactive materials in the workplace and identify which are potentially dangerous. Spill response will be discussed, including how to isolate the material and control worker exposures until the material can be cleaned up. We will review Department of Transportation markings to understand which packages are more dangerous than others, and will conclude with an overview of free online resources for additional information.

Our presenter is Dr. Timothy Taulbee, PhD, CHP. Dr. Taulbee earned his Bachelor's, Master's and Doctoral degrees in Nuclear Engineering from the University of Cincinnati. He began his career in 1993 at the Department of Energy's Mound Laboratories in Miamisburg Ohio. Since 1997, he has worked for the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH). Dr. Taulbee is active in the Cincinnati Radiation Society (CRS), the Health Physics Society (HPS) and American Academy of Health Physics (AAHP).
